SOLUTION

Blujay's Transportation Management for Forwarders ensures visibility throughout the shipment lifecycle by using a single global shipment concept. This enables all supply chain partners to collaborate under one platform – the world's largest Global Trade Network. Forwarding offers flexibility, collaboration, and control right out of the box.

With extensive integration capabilities to financial accounting systems, customs and compliance solutions, as well as to your customers, trading partners, and industry portals, Transportation Management for Forwarders supports your entire global network.

Fully integrated with our Customer Portal, your customers are able to create online bookings, access their shipment status information and view appropriate documentation online, increasing the overall efficiency of the supply chain process.

Transportation Management for Forwarders can be deployed to suit your business, either SaaS/cloud or on-premise. Our domain experts work with you to get you up and running quickly with an industry standard, best-practice configuration, accelerating both business benefits and return on investment.

Designed to support global business, the solution can be configured for as many levels of corporate structure as necessary – from small- or medium-sized forwarding companies operating across one region, up to multi-national organizations with thousands of users operating across many regions worldwide.

Key to our solution is the configurable workflow – user-defined options allow you to easily set up processes to suit your customers' standard operating procedures, with any number of variations possible. The configurable user interface (by user/user class) and search facilities offer simple, intuitive navigation that can be easily customized to suit different users in different locations who may be working in different ways.

Transportation Management for Forwarders combines global visibility and standard data handling with the ability to differentiate at a local level, giving you the best of both worlds.
